Monkey Grip is a 1977 novel by Australian writer Helen Garner, her first published book. It initially received a mixed critical reception, but has now become accepted as a classic of modern Australian literature. The novel deals with the life of single-mother Nora, as she narrates her increasingly tumultuous relationship with a flaky heroin addict, juxtaposed with her raising a daughter while living in share houses in Melbourne during the late 1970s.

I too had loved Monkey Grip and, on reading the First Stone, felt like I was on the other side of a huge chasm from Garner or that she was deliberately taking my experiences and twisting them out of recognition. Betrayal is a great word for it. I don't normally hold a grudge but I've never read anything of hers since.
